

Message from the Executive Director
March 23, 2020

All offices of the San Diego Regional Center (SDRC) are now closed to the public. SDRC's employees are working remotely. We have a small number of employees in the offices to complete essential functions such as paying our service providers and ensuring that applicable clients receive their money from their trust accounts.

Please continue to access your service coordinator by calling their telephone number or by email. If you do not know your service coordinator's contact information please call our main number, (858) 576-2996, or send an email message to input@sdrc.org.

Residential service providers are in need of donations of essential supplies such as toilet paper, hand sanitizer, disinfecting wipes and general cleaning products. Service providers are also in need of personal protective equipment (PPE) such as N95 masks, gloves, protective gowns and eye protection. Anyone having information on where we might obtain these donations is asked to call our main number or send an email to our general email address and ask for Lori Sorenson.
